SENIOR CLASS
ST. JOHN'S SCHOOL OF NURSING
Tulsa, Oklahoma

FOREWORD

In order to typify the curricular and extracurricular activities carried on by the students of St. John we have not followed a definite illustrated theme. Instead we have tried to make our pictures tell the story of the work, and activities of our profession. It has been our purpose to capture the unconventional as well as the conventional side of nursing life.

It has been our intent to include every individual, activity, and school function. We hope that each and every student will feel that this is solely his Annual.

—THE BON BONNE STAFF

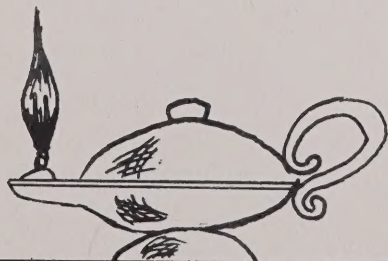

DEDICATION

TO SISTER MARY GRATIANA—

Whose guiding hand has been felt by two decades of aspiring young nurses, and whose personality and way of life will ever be a measuring stick for their own ambitions, we humbly dedicate this 1953 Bon Bonne'.

—THE CLASS OF '53

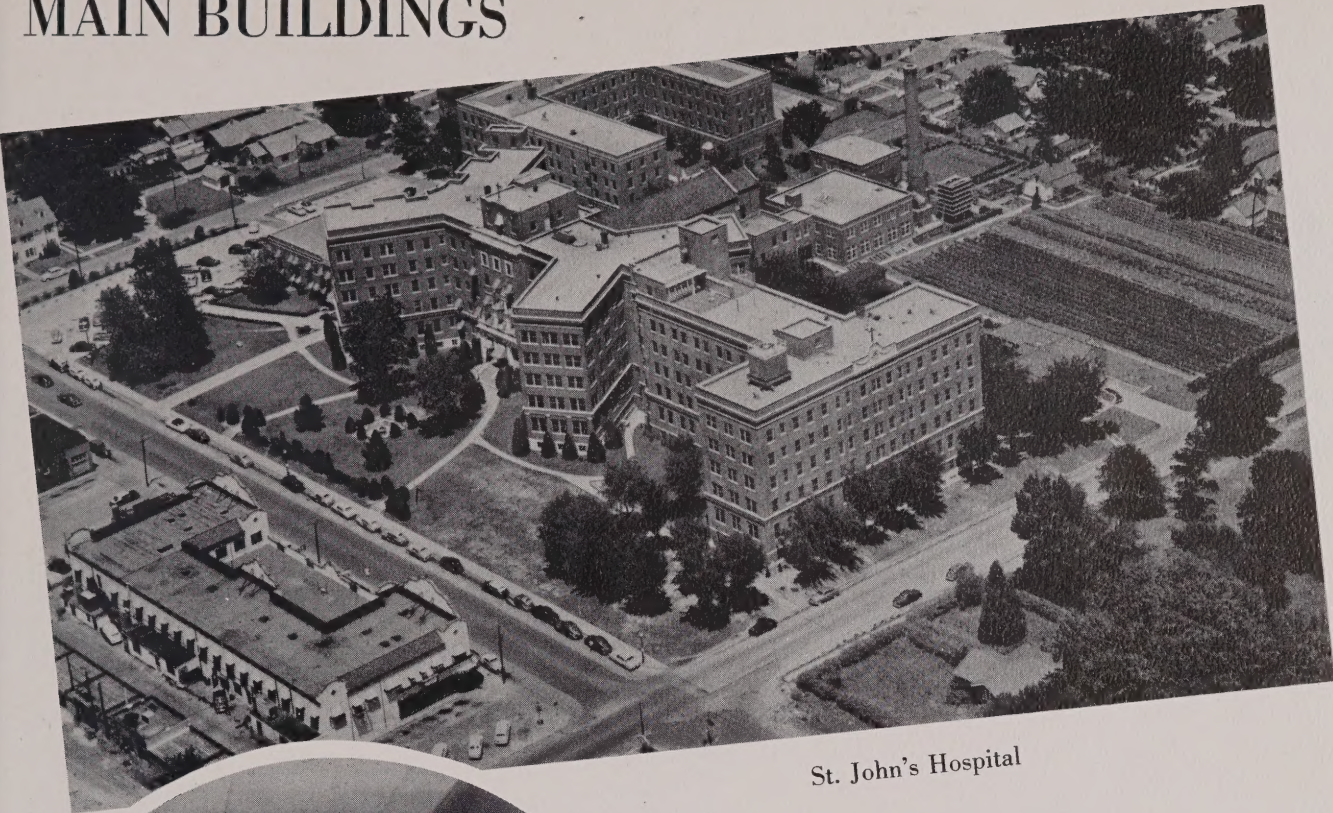

SISTER MARY OLIVIA
Mother General of the Sisters of the Sorrowful Mother

Sister M. Olivia, a 1938 graduate of St. John's Hospital School of Nursing, was elected Mother General of the Sisters of the Sorrowful Mother at the General Chapter held in Rome, Italy, from May 26 to June 1. The new Mother General, fifth to head the Order founded by Mother Frances Streitl in 1883, will serve for six years.

Sister M. Olivia has been a floor supervisor at St. Joseph Hospital at Marshfield, Wisconsin, since she was transferred there from St. John's about six years ago. She had been elected a delegate to the general Chapter in Rome and will now take up residence at the Motherhouse there.

The order of which she now assumes the leadership comprises more than 900 nuns in this country and more than 200 in Europe.

Dear Graduates of '53

As you are about to strike out for yourselves, you have expressed a wish for a few "last words," which would serve as a reminder of your years as a student nurse.

Be good nurses! A good nurse will consider no task or duty menial if it means lending a helping hand and will contribute to the well-being of those placed in her charge. Remember that success is always the result of careful thought, work, and constant self-control. The foundation of your career must be built on a solid foundation of Charity, Justice, Prudence, Temperance and Fortitude. Your gain in poise, force, and self-reliance, will more than compensate for any hardship and sacrifice that such self-improvement entails.

Remember always that there are few more noble ways of following the precepts of Christ than of ministering to the mental and bodily ills of His suffering members, the sick and afflicted. It is a beautiful thing to serve them, but it is a still more beautiful thing to serve them with a heart filled with love for Him and for them.

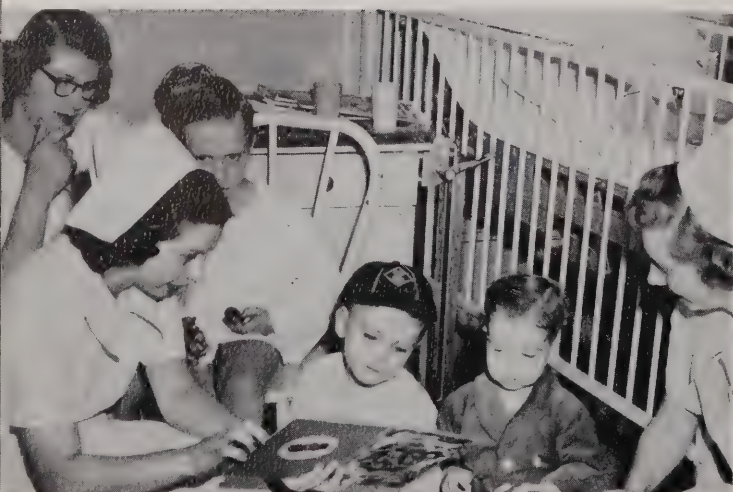

We are Hurrying, Sister!

Dear Students,

A hospital, strictly speaking is a single institution, but it is a most complicated one. It belongs to the people who use it and to the people who visit it. The most important equipment in a hospital is the spirit of service and love for your work. This means teamwork of all concerned.

Everyone is a part of this team, and none of your work will be left unrewarded. Our Heavenly Father looks down with pleasure on all who care for His sick and poor. Christ Himself said, "What you have done to the least of my brethren, you have done to me."

SENIOR DINNER

Thursday, Feb. 12, the seniors were the guests of Dr. and Mrs. Ed L. Moore at a dinner held in the main dining room of the Tulsa Club.

The tables were beautifully appointed with red and white carnations. The menu was a student nurse's dream come true. A fruit cocktail was served as an appetizer and this was followed by the juiciest steaks, plus hot rolls and all the trimmings. The dessert consisted of strawberry parfait and cakes.

All the girls came dressed in their very best. A special vote of thanks should go to the supervisors who worked so hard arranging our hours so all could attend.

Dr. and Mrs. Moore were both excellent hosts. They told us some of their amusing experiences during their student days.

At the close of the dinner, Dr. Moore spoke to the group and expressed his willingness to help us in any future professional problems. It was a very warm-hearted talk and one that touched us all.

Our sincere thanks to Dr. and Mrs. Moore for a really enjoyable evening. It will be one of our most pleasant graduation memories.

St. John's Lay Board Named

St. John's Hospital presented its problems and an outline of its operations to its newly formed Lay Advisory Board earlier this month after a dinner at Southern Hills Country Club.

Dr. John E. McDonald and four other doctors, Maurice J. Searle, W. O. Smith, D. L. Garrett and Samuel Goodwin, all of St. John's staff, attempted to give the 24 lay members of the board an idea of the problems facing hospitals today.

The advisory board was set up to guide the hospital in its expansion plans, including the $2,000,000 wing which St. John's plans to build to alleviate crowded hospital conditions in the city.

Members of the board are: Otis McClintock, John Mabey, Armisted E. Bradshaw, Frank Bernsen, Phil C. Braniff, F. C. Broach, L. C. Clark, William C.

DOCTORS DINNER

The Annual Staff Dinner for the doctors of St. John's Hospital was held Monday evening, February 16th in the Hospital Cafeteria.

Guest speaker at the banquet was Dr. Mark Everett, Dean of the Oklahoma Medical School, who substituted for Mr. D. A. Kothe, Attorney, who was unable to attend because of illness.

Master-of-ceremonies, Dr. J. E. McDonald was assisted by Dr. D. L. Edwards, Chief-of-staff.

An unusual and unique entertainment was provided by a barber shop quartette.

Many thanks to all who helped to make the affair a grand success, particularly, Dr. J. D. Shipp, who made the arrangements, the hard working sisters, who prepared the meal and the preclinical students who served.

Doenges, L. L. Dresser, Wilson S. Dye, Harvey Heller, Jenkin Lloyd Jones, Raymond S. Kravis, R. K. Lane, P. C. Lauinger, Don McBirney, L. P. Myers, William W. Michaels, John Rogers, L. Francis Rooney, W. J. Sherry, Sid J. Steen, Bailie W. Vinson and William K. Warren.

St. John's Hospital Auxiliary Sponsors Fred Waring Show

St. John's Hospital Auxiliary is sponsoring the Tulsa appearance of Fred Waring and his Pennsylvanians, his glee club, orchestra and entertainers. The concert will be given at 3:00 P.M. Sunday, March 1, at Convention Hall.

Under Waring's leadership, the troupe will tour the Pacific northwest, California, the southwest, the midwest and south before returning to New York for resumption of television commitments in time for the traditional Palm Sunday TV show. All the Pennsylvanians of the television program will appear on the concert.

In January Fred Waring became the only musical program on TV to win an award from the Christophers, a national religious organization, for creative work in television.

The bronze medallions were presented by Father James Keller to Fred Waring, Director Bob Banner and writer Hugh Brannus. The citations were for excellence in the December 14th production.

Reservations for the concert may be made by mail through Carson Attractions, P. O. Box 2383, Tulsa.

ALUMNAE CHRISTMAS PARTY

HISTORY

As the year 1950 rolled around, it brought to St. John's Hospital the "would-be" most efficient class that has yet appeared upon the horizon. These 51 eager girls invaded the nurses' home and were greeted by Sister Gratiana, the housemothers, the faculty, and the students.

The first few days were spent in orientation, and trying on uniforms, claiming books, scissors and getting acquainted.

We were conducted on a tour of the hospital, trying to get us acquainted. But we were definitely confused.

This confusion lasted only until we were told that we would have the first week end off, then bedlam reigned, followed by a near empty fourth floor.

Back again on Monday to a new state of confusion-classes. The terms so loosely used by the instructors and doctors sounded like a long forgotten Chinese dialect to us. We soon learned that Fallopian tubes were not to be found lying loosely around surgery.

Getting used to the routine wasn't half bad with a late leave until 11:00 on Saturday night. Everyone rushed off duty at 7:00 to rush even faster to Crawford's Drugstore for a coke and sandwich.

We were just becoming acquainted with the routine when we were informed that "Seniors" were privileged characters and did not appreciate having doors slammed in their faces. Respect was shown to all upper-classmen, instructors and doctors.

Organization got into full swing with the election of class officers, who were Jacquita Gilbreath, President; Barbara Brennan, Vice President; Mary Lou Parks, Secretary-Treasurer; and Delma Saunders, Student Council Representative, who later chose a married life as her career. Class sponsors were Dr. and Mrs. Ed Moore.

A getting acquainted party in the form of a pajama party was sponsored by the Juniors and Seniors. As in tradition, the name "Probie" was attached to one and all.

By this time our knowledge had increased greatly and we had perfected our nursing skills to the point where we received our caps. This was a great day when we were capped by Sister Gratiana.

In February, a dance was given in the honor of St. Valentine and Sue Proctor was crowned as our Sweetheart Queen.

Our Junior-year began with the same incidences happening such as water fights, sock sops, school parties, and the election of officers. Those chosen were Angela Mannas, President; Marlys Schutt, Vice President; Betty Brown, Secretary-Treasurer; and Jo Harris, Student Council Representative. At this time Sister Bernadette was elected our class advisor.

We honored the Seniors with a Junior-Senior Prom in the spring at Tulsa University Student Union.

About this time we started in our special departments and learned the tension and thrills of Surgery, O.B. and Special Diet Kitchen.

During this year we said our goodbyes to part of our classmates and were sent to Central State Hospital at Norman for three months.

Now came the day when some of the girls decided to combine nursing with that of marriage, most of whom their husbands were in the armed services.

Our Senior year started with the election of class officers; Doris Payne, President; Allene Geasland, Vice President; Mary Ince, Secretary; Pat Seabrooke, Student Council Representative; and Jacquita Gilbreath, President of Student Council.

This year the Seniors were permitted to sponsor the annual fall carnival which was a great success. In addition, the annual Christmas formal was held in the auditorium.

Senior activities were started off with a "kick-off" banquet given by Sister Gratiana, followed by a dinner at the Tulsa Club given by Dr. and Mrs. Moore. Our thanks to them for a lovely evening.

We began preparing for graduation by choosing our uniforms and having our pictures taken. But now, we find the Seniors in Pediatrics and Public Health.

We have been writing our case studies earnestly and trying to get our clinical records up to date. Everytime we finish one we find another presented. It's confusing—not amusing.

During all this time, we were trying to keep up with our Senior activities and studying for finishing classes, comprehensives, and State Board.

The housemothers prepared us a delicious dinner and "Pop" Runnels fed us Smorgasbord style and a picnic was given by the Alumni at Mohawk Park. This time we were honored by the Juniors with the Junior-Senior Prom.

Our Senior year is climaxed by Senior Class night and the graduation day program.

Our class colors, red and white; class flowers, the red rose; and our motto, "Ready to Serve All." The history depends from now on, the future and what we make of it.

Respectfully submitted,

MARTHA NELSON MOODY

PROPHECY OF THE CLASS OF '53

We would like to present an overall picture of our class 20 years from now as featured in our wildest dreams. First, we see Frances Moore and Dr. Coppedge leading the Great Reform for better psychiatric treatment for Chronic Alcolics. And on the Turtle Farm, we find Carolyn Haynes raising the little rasslin' Reeces.

Our Angela has come to great fame in both fields of education and fashion. She is president of Cornell University and designs her own line of Maness Originals on the side.

Martha Nelson Moody is now running a close second with Charles Atlas in manufacturing Body Building Weights.

Sue Proctor, now living in Washington, D.C., is known as the Hostess with the Mostess on the Ball.

United States Marshall, Mary Ince, is cleaning up the gambling racket in Reno, Nevada.

Betty Brown is chief sales representative for Havana cigar Co. Her motto, "Pick me up and smoke me sometime."

Virginia Meyer's husband still refuses to let her cook in aluminum-ware for fear of ulcers.

Margaret Brown Detwiler has established a new cure for Hoof and Mouth Disease in South America.

While Barbara Brennan is known as Corn Plaster Queen and is making a fortune off her former classmates.

June Batchelor has recently been elected president of Sewage Disposal Department. Her main job is to clean the tanks after everyone has gone home.

Betty Johnston has instituted pineapple crochected lap sheets for the Mexico City Hospital.

Next week Deloris Dum makes her second debut as a ledge walker by navigating the 100 floor ledge of the Empire State Building. Quite a ledge-walker!!

And what's this we see climbing up the other side? It's Jean Kemohah bringing up the hamburgers on her world famous sheet ladder.

Marlys Schutt has become head housemother at St. John's and she is well known for her iron-clad campus regime.

When times are bad, Jackie Coleman can always fill the specimen bottles with green soap for Carl to culture.

Out in the backwoods of Arkansas is Mary Jean Smith playing the role of mid-wife for the neighbor women.

And here it is 30 minutes before her daughter's wedding, and we find Betty Morris putting in the hem and finishing up her dress. Still the same old Morris.

Donna McNeil is now bottling Blubber's Mange Cure, better known as Sheep Dip.

Did you know Allyne Geasland is head jack instructor at Okmulgee Kindergarten? Jacks has been found to be a very diverting pastime for frustrated students.

And still teaching dancing to Moonlight on the Ganges is Jacquita Gilbreath.

Patty Seabrook is head barker at the side show of the Oklahoma Oil Exposition. Our quiet Patty???

While Norma Ashbacher and her husband are chief directors of the American Build Your Own Home Association.

Vera Marie Howard and Mary Lou Parks are head nurses in the United States Infirmary Service. They seem to be doing nicely since they had so much experience while in Training.

Marjorie Burmiester has just received a reward for being the model housewife and mother of the year.

We hear Joan Harris is still working hard at being famous. Her last contribution was a book on How to win Friends and Influence Supervisors.

Mildred Chiles, better known as Chigger, was nominated Calamine Queen of 1973 since she uses so much of their product.

Billie Ruth Ermy has become a famous multi-millionaire, with her new diet regime, How to Eat and Grow Thin.

Peggy Cowan and Ben are the new exponents of Cheaper by the Dozen, since they both majored in Econimics and have a dozen red-haired kids.

Gerry Howard is still fretting over which to marry, the sailor, car salesman or the jeep driver. It seems to be a very perplexing situation.

Wanda Floyd Gimlin and Joe have gone to the moon in their new air-conditioned space ship, the Lunar Trolly.

Doris Payne is still trying to find enough time to spend with Ralph, but with six children, she's kept rather busy.

Marian Bardgett has taken Esau's place in the famous dungeon, Room 3, and in her spare time she's trying to finish the tea towels she started when we were Probies.

Martha Bailey Carroll, after all this time has finally gotten her red Pontiac convertible for her 20th wedding anniversary. It just matches Monty's hair.

Dr. and Mrs. E. L. Moore's son has entered Harvard Medical School. We hope to see him around St. John's soon.

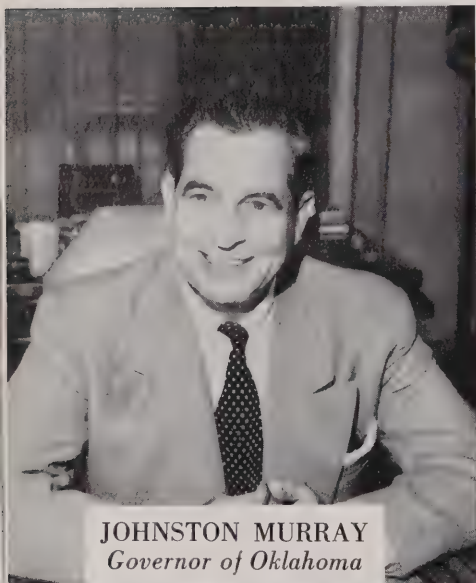

We predict that the Class of 1953 will have the happiest, most successful and prosperous future.
